Agisent's ProDocs™ Judicial Documents System provides powerful document management solutions specifically designed for prosecutors and law enforcement, and includes advanced tracking, auditing, compliance, document storage and distribution (including body and dash cam video, and other large media requirements), secure access, risk mitigation, reporting, and preservation of chain-of-evidence.

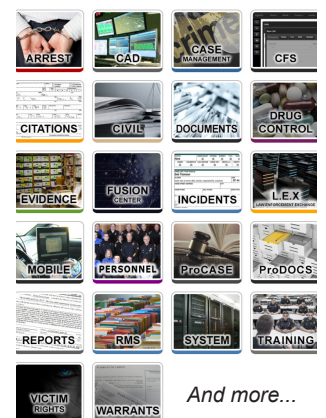

"Agisent's ProDocs is like the ultimate 'Drop Box'. It was designed specifically for Law Enforcement, Prosecutors and Defense Attorneys to exchange files without compromising security. With the FBI's Criminal Justice Information Security Policy as its guide, our administrative staff rests assured knowing that confidentiality, integrity and availability are its primary focus. Its transaction-based chain-of-evidence and auditing functions are like nothing we've seen before. Highly Recommended!"
– Stacey Coleman,
  Office of the Solicitor,
  2nd Judicial Circuit, Aiken, SC

"Agisent ProDocs is providing an efficient and time saving mechanism to receive investigative files from law enforcement agencies and at the same time allowing us to easily deliver complete discovery to the defense bar."

– Bryant C. Dunaway,
  District Attorney General,
  13th Judicial District of Tennessee

And more...

ProDocs makes it easy for Law Enforcement, Prosecution, and Defense to share and interact with online documents, body and dash cam video, surveillance and interrogation media, and more. Perfect for discovery, distribution, archiving, and even cold-case document repository.

Prosecutors:
Manage, distribute, track, and automate case files and associated media from law enforcement, defense attorneys, and defendant agents.

Law Enforcement:
Upload and manage case documents in one centralized location for prosecutors and defense. Upload individual files or folders, or entire directory trees with a single operation.

Defense Attorneys and Defendant's Agents:
Instantly access documents critical to your case from law enforcement and prosecutors.

ProDocs is the perfect place to upload, store, manage, track, and release the large amounts of data associated with individual cases, including dash and body cam videos, surveillance tapes, and crime scene and investigation photographs and reports.

Agisent provides a CJIS-compliant computing cloud for secure storage and access, or can install a local private cloud in your existing facilities using Agisent's LFS (Large File Server) technology. ProDocs also works with other leading CJIS-compliant cloud services, such as Microsoft, Amazon, and Google.
