Weekly Legislative Report

July 14, 2023

After an announced week of breaks for both the House and Senate last week, this week has seen very little activity on Jones and Salisbury Streets. The House did hold a few committee meetings and a voting session on Wednesday. The Senate did not schedule any committee meetings this week or hold any voting sessions.

Speaker Tim Moore announced no voting sessions were expected before Wednesday of next week in the House. Additionally, Speaker Moore announced progress is being made on the State budget. However, at this stage in the process, general conversation around the legislative complex is that no budget is realistically expected before August. The Senate has made no announcements about upcoming voting sessions.

The House and Senate adjourned on Thursday and will reconvene on Monday, July 17, 2023, however no committee meetings or action on legislation are scheduled.
